MESSAGE FROM THE CEO AND CHAIR

The Annual Report presents key aspects of our organization and highlights activities from 2017. You will find it has been another very productive and successful year.

We began 2017 with a change to our business name from AANP Certification Program (AANPCP) to the American Academy of Nurse Practitioners Certification Board (AANPCB). In addition to a new name, the logo was updated, our website was redesigned, and a specialty certification program for Emergency NPs was launched.

As conveyed in our mission, vision and purpose statements, AANPCB serves the public and the nurse practitioner community through excellence in testing and certification for NPs. AANPCB offers initial and renewal certifications for Family Nurse Practitioners (FNP), Adult-Gerontology Primary Care Nurse Practitioners (A-GNP) and now Emergency Nurse Practitioners (ENP) as a specialty certification. Certification renewal continues to be available for AANPCB-certified Adult Nurse Practitioners (ANP) and Gerontologic Nurse Practitioners (GNP). Dual certified ANPs and GNPs have the option to transition these certifications into the A-GNP.

By year end, we achieved a significant milestone when we reached 100,000 active certifications. To commemorate this event and acknowledge our certificants, we placed an announcement in the January 2018 issue of the Journal for Nurse Practitioners. A copy of that announcement is included on page 2 of this report.

Other marketing announcements from 2017 are also included, such as the ENP postcard on page 7 that was sent to educational programs and the ad on page 9 that was in the June issue of the Journal for Nurse Practitioners.

ACCREDITATION

The AANPCB entry into advanced practice certification programs are accredited by the Accreditation Board for Specialty Nursing Certification, Inc. (ABSNC) and the National Commission for Certifying Agencies (NCCA).

ABSNC, the only accrediting body specifically for nursing certification, provides a peer-review mechanism that allows nursing certification organizations to obtain accreditation of their certification programs by demonstrating compliance with the highest quality standards available in the industry. (nursingcertification.org)

NCCA, the Institute for Credentialing Excellence (ICE) accrediting body, serves to ensure the health, welfare, and safety of the public through the accreditation of certification programs and organizations that assess professional competence. Accreditation by NCCA indicates AANPCB’s compliance with the NCCA Standards for the Accreditation of Certification Programs.

OUTLOOK FOR 2018

The Board of Commissioners (BOC) budgeted projections for 2018 remain conservative. Revenue sources are primarily from certification examination, employer verification, and recertification fees. Costs associated with exam development and administration (testing service fees) remain our greatest expense. This statement represents an unaudited income statement report for the Fiscal Year ending 12/31/2017.
2017 HIGHLIGHTS

EMERGENCY NP SPECIALTY CERTIFICATION BY EXAMINATION

The Emergency NP (ENP) specialty certification program was launched January 2017. During its first year, 196 ENP examinations were administered with an overall pass rate of 87%. The three options for certified Family NPs to meet eligibility criteria include completion of a graduate or post-graduate academic ENP program (ENP-AP), a post-graduate emergency fellowship program (ENP-FP), or qualifying emergency-related continuing education and practice (ENP-CE). The education and practice requirements for each eligibility option are described in the ENP Certification postcard below.

The number of first-time testers and pass rates by ENP eligibility option for 2017 were:

- ENP-CE 129 / 88%
- ENP-AP 57 / 88%
- ENP-FP 4 / 100%

FNP PROGRAM RECEIVES RE-ACCREDITATION

In 2017 the Family Nurse Practitioner certification program was re-accredited by both the Accreditation Board for Specialty Nursing Certification (ABSNC) and the National Commission for Certifying Agencies (NCCA). Accreditation is a peer-reviewed mechanism that allows certifying organizations to obtain program accreditation by demonstrating compliance with the highest quality standards in the industry. To maintain accreditation, programs must exhibit continuing adherence to the standards set forth.

Accreditation renewal dates for each program are:

Applications for initial accreditation of the ENP program will be submitted in 2018.

CELEBRATING 100,000 CERTIFICATIONS

AANPCB celebrated a new marker of success when we reached 100,000 certifications. By the end of 2017, there were 101,403 active certifications. The largest number of certifications are FNPs (82.7%) followed by A-GNPs (8.6%), ANPs (8.3%), GNP (0.2%), and ENP (0.2%). Several of the dual-certified ANPs and GNPs have converted their certifications into the A-GNP. To recognize all of our certificants, an announcement was placed in the January 2018 issue of the JNP, which is shown on page 2 of this report.

EMERGENCY ENPC

Have you completed your application for the Emergency NP Certification exam? Know anyone that would be interested in this certification?

The American Academy of Nurse Practitioners Certification Board (AANPCB) launched the Emergency Specialty Certification examination in January 2017. The ENP certification program aligns with the APRN Consensus Model for specialty nursing practice and meets national accreditation standards. Members of AANP and AAENP are eligible for a $75 application discount.

There are three application eligibility options:

- Option 1. A minimum of 2,000 direct, emergency care practice hours in the past five (5) years as a FNP and evidence of 100 credits in emergency-related CE with a minimum of 30 of those CE credits in emergency care procedural skills within those 5 years; or

- Option 2. Completion of an approved academic emergency care graduate or post-graduate NP program; or

- Option 3. Completion of an approved emergency fellowship program.

Candidates must hold an active FNP certification and a current RN license. For more information about eligibility requirements visit the ENP Certification Candidate Handbook at www.aanpcert.org.
